REPORT

Prakruthi- Eco Club in association with Lion's club Bangalore had organised a two-day eco educational trip to Dubare Elephant Camp, Coorg on 19th and 20th of February.

Thirty students along with Dr. S Anil kumar, Principal Mr. Manjunath J, Lion's club president, Prof Smitha Gowda, Eco Club Convenor started the excursion from Bangalore at 7AM on 19th and reached the destination at 1PM. On the way a visit to Golden temple was made and in the evening to Chiklihole dam. Evening was spent time in getting to know each other and few games followed by a campfire.

The following day was started by a short trek in the Dubare forest, where information about various trees and birds were explained. Later the same morning the students visited the elephants and Mr Manjunath explained about their nature.

This outing was also significant where Lion's club of Bangalore donated utensils, stationary and a cheque to a cancer patient in the government school where our students actively took part. A visit to Nisargadhama was completed on the way back to Bangalore.

Overall Students spent some quality time in the nature and understood the ways mechanics of wild life. Certificates was given to all the students participated in this excursion.
